FOR A FAIR APPROACH TO SIDEWALK VENDING IN LOS ANGELES

The City of Los Angeles is home to 3.8 million people spread across 472 square miles, and divided into 114 neighborhoods.¹ The city's diversity in geography and population, as well as its nuanced business and residential footprint create a unique metropolitan area that deserves a thoughtful approach to public policy development.

That's why we believe a one-size-fits-all, top-down approach to the legalization of street vending will not work in Los Angeles.

Join businesses, residents and officials across the city working establish a fair sidewalk-vending program that is tailored to fit the needs and wants of our communities.
