Karin,

I am sorry to report after looking again at my calendar, that I am unavailable at 7:30 am on the 16th. The Department of Emergency Management has its final table top exercise to discuss worst case scenarios during the Super Bowl 50 events. As much as I was looking forward to the breakfast as I worked closely with Alex Tourk in the beginning days of Project Homeless Connect, providing Officers for security, there is no way I can miss the exercises.

Thank you again for inviting me!

All:

I am so glad that you all can join us at the Union Square BID table for the Project Homeless Connect Breakfast on Wednesday, December 16 from 7:30-9 AM at Dolby Laboratories at 1275 Market Street.

After the Mayor's Press Conference on homelessness this morning and his call for better cross sector collaboration on this issue it is timely that we are all coming together.

I look forward to seeing you on the 16th.

Thanks.

Great police work Captain.

I was also wondering if you are collecting daily reports from the 10B officers as you did last year with statistics on # of arrests, what type of arrests etc.

Please advise as this is all good documentation for our grant report.

Thanks.

Karin,

Yesterday, a couple of off duty officers from San Jose and San Leandro spotted a suspect steal a purse in Macy's Cheesecake factory. They chased the suspect and detained him. Safe Shopper Officers were on the spot and were able to take the suspect into custody.

Another great Safe Shopper officer example!

Hello SFPD!

I just wanted to make sure you saw this very positive news piece that Kron4 did on our security cameras Friday evening: <http://kron4.com/2015/11/20/video-holiday-shopping-security-at-san-franciscos-union-square/>

Video: Holiday shopping security at San Francisco's Union ...

As the holiday season approaches, shoppers are packing the streets of San Francisco, especially in Union Square.

Read more...

I think our message comes across well – i.e. that we have a network of very high quality cameras in the Union Square area. And...

“We are not watching you - but if you do something bad in Union Square the SFPD will come looking for you!”

We again are grateful for all your support on this project.

We are also starting to see more officers in the area just in time for the holidays.

I hope that you all have a safe and festive Thanksgiving holiday.

Sincerely,

Karin

Karin and Troy,

Seth phoned me this morning about this. I asked him to put it in writing. I told him that if one person is not selling and is just helping people to their bus, I would loosen up alittle. However, if there is more than one person out, everyone will be cited 13 of the municipal police code. I do not think his idea will work. I suggested to him that all the bus companies should pay for a Union Square Ambassador to to provide directions for all of the buses. The business transaction can take place on the bus while it is moving. He didn't like it.

We will cite today. It is good to see all the Officers in Union Square. They will be brought up to speed on the plan.

Hi David,

Thank you or taking the time to talk to me this morning. As we discussed, I think the appropriate solution to the issues we are having is to allow 1 representative from éach company on the sidewalk to help direct customers to the appropriate lines and answer general questions. This person will not have a machine to run transactions or marketing collateral with price points on it.

All transactions will need to run on the bus with a team that will rotate from stop to stop.

Let me know what you think and I will pass this along to all the other companies once we agree.

Warm Regards,

Dear Karin Flood:

I hope this email finds you well. My name is Sasha Feldstein, and I am writing on behalf of a student group at the University of California Berkeley, School of Law's Policy Advocacy Clinic.

We are conducting a survey of the Business Improvement Districts in California in an effort to better understand BID formation and the services that BIDs provide to their communities. As a representative of a California BID, we hope that you will be willing to participate. We anticipate the survey taking no longer than 10 minutes to complete.

We may use survey responses as the basis for a future report, and we will be happy to share our data results with you so that you can better understand the landscape of BIDs in California.

Please click here to take our BIDs survey. We will be collecting responses until COB Friday, November 20, 2015.

Thank you in advance for your participation, and we look forward to receiving your response. Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me at sfeldstein@clinical.law.berkeley.edu

Best,

Sasha Feldstein

It has been in planning for about 3-6 months now and was just approved this afternoon.

If you indeed are the right person do you have a plan that you can share with us for the regular stepped up traffic enforcement for the holidays in Union Square?

Thank you.

Subject: Plan for traffic control officers in Union Square

Dear Captain Mannix:

It has been a few months since we judged the Cable Car bell ringing content together in Union Square...

Incidentally, I am writing to you about an issue that is related to the Cable Car.

As you may be aware, today the SFMTA will vote on whether to remove most private autos from lower Powell Street (Geary to Ellis)

If it passes they are going to roll out the changes almost immediately.

It has come to my attention that the responsibility for traffic control falls within your responsibility.

(I guess parking tickets and the like are issued by the SFMTA)

I was wondering, if you indeed are the right person, if you have a plan for traffic control on Powell street to help mitigate the confusion that will arise from these changes.

The traffic in Union Square is already incredibly backed up because of the Central Subway construction and the recent traffic changes on Market Street.

We would like to understand your plan for the next two months through the holidays.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Karin
