Hey Jeff,

I think that section 3.6 of the EHBID's bylaws would, if ever used, violate the Brown Act:

SECTION 3.6 ACTION WITHOUT MEETING

Any action required or permitted to be taken by the Board of Governors may be taken without a meeting, if all members of the Board of Governors, individually or collectively, consent in writing to that action. Such action by written consent shall have the same force and effect as a unanimous vote of the Board of Governors. Such written consent or consents shall be filed with the minutes of the proceedings of the Board of Governors.

I mean, I suppose if they never do it there's no violation, but on the other hand, why claim the right to break the law right in the bylaws? Just a thought, do with it what you will.

Thanks for your time,
